Welcome Greetings to the Graduates

The pomp and ceremony of convocation exercises formally mark an important life transition for you, our graduates. Surrounded by proud families, friends, teachers and mentors, you may now move forward with confidence, having earned our admiration and praise.

Each of you submitted to a rigorous intellectual path and each has proved worthy. Today, you mark an important milestone in your life while we, your community, mark an important one in ours. Ninety-six years ago, the University of Alberta was founded on a scrubby piece of riverbank by men and women who believed this province should be built on a foundation of knowledge.

At that time, our founding president, Henry Marshall Tory, promised that the knowledge within these walls would not remain here, but would flow forever outward in service to our community. Today, you join more than 190,000 University of Alberta alumni worldwide in fulfilling that promise.

Since 1908, our community has grown beyond the borders of Alberta to encompass the world in one global community. Learning to live peacefully and prosperously in this community will require leaders and citizens of vision, commitment and drive. More than ever, the world needs leaders and citizens like the people you have become.

While today may seem like an ending, it is not. Today is the beginning of the next leg of your journey. You will continue to grow and to learn and you will continue to be a life-long member of the University of Alberta community.

Welcome and Congratulations.

John T Ferguson, FCA, LLD (Hon) Chancellor

Universities began as small collections of scholars who worked together to preserve and advance knowledge. Students came to study with them and, in due course, an administrative structure arose to provide system and recognition for those studies. This ancient structure is preserved at the University of Alberta, with the faculty and the students providing the core of the University's purpose: teaching and the advancement of knowledge.

The faculty and staff congratulate you, the graduates, on the successful completion of your present studies which is recognized by the degrees to which you are admitted today. We hope your present knowledge provides a sound base for an education which will continue throughout a rewarding life. To quote Honorary Degree Recipient Tommy Banks: "Try to be a good person. You will be amazed how rewarding it is."

Congratulations from the Faculty and Staff!

On behalf of the Government of Alberta, I am pleased to join family members and friends in congratulating you on your convocation. It takes a great deal of dedication and commitment to successfully obtain a goal such as this, and today your perseverance and accomplishments are being rewarded.

Graduating from university is an important milestone and a great turning point in your lives. One goal has been reached and a promising future lies ahead. For some of you, this will mean working towards career goals, while for others it may mean going on to further education or reaching goals in your personal lives. Whatever you choose, I hope you embrace these new learning opportunities with the same zeal and determination you have exhibited as a student at the University of Alberta.

The education you have received at university will be sure to open many doors for you. You have already demonstrated that you could accomplish anything you set your mind to, and I am confident your dedication to learning will continue to play an important role as you pursue your goals.

Congratulations again and best wishes for continued success.

Dr Lyle Oberg, Minister Alberta Learning

Congratulations Honorary Degree Recipient

Donald Mackenzie

Lieutenant General (Retired) Donald Mackenzie has had a distinguished 36-year career in the Canadian military and has since achieved great distinction in the business world.

Born in Mexico, General Mackenzie received his education at Trinity College in Port Hope, Ontario and at the University of Alberta. Following training as a pilot, his early career included flying tours in northern aerial photography and mapping, flying instruction and airlift operations. While in the Royal Canadian Air Force, he attended the University of Alberta, graduating in 1959 with a Bachelor of Commerce Degree. Upon graduation he was posted to Air Transport Command; first as Executive Assistant to the Commander and then as a staff officer in the Personnel Branch.

After completing the Royal Canadian Air Force Staff College course in 1965, he became Commanding Officer of the Canadian Forces VIP Transport Squadron in Ottawa followed by promotion to Colonel and posting as Director of Air Force Equipment Requirements at National Defence Headquarters.

From July 1970 to June 1972 he was Deputy Base Commander, Canadian Forces Base Montreal. He next served three years as Canadian Forces Attaché to the Canadian embassies in Rome and Madrid. By 1976 he had been promoted to Brigadier General and was named Commander, Air Transport Group and was responsible for all Canadian Forces airlift and search and rescue operations. In 1981, having achieved the rank of Major General in 1979, he was assigned to NORAD (North American Aerospace Defence Command) headquarters as the Deputy Chief of Staff for Plans. In May 1983, he was promoted to Lieutenant General and became Deputy Commander in Chief of NORAD, the highest international appointment an air force officer can achieve.

Since his retirement from the military in 1986 he has served in a stewardship position with a Mexico City-based international company, Panamerican Beverages Inc. (Panamco), a bottling company that distributes soft drinks and bottled water products throughout Mexico and Latin and Central America. Panamco is the largest soft drink bottler in Latin America and the third largest bottler of Coca-Cola® products in the world. In 1993 General Mackenzie helped to take Panamco public. In 2002 it achieved well over US $2 billion in sales.

General Mackenzie has been a strong supporter of his alma mater and several years ago established the Donald and Margaret Mackenzie Undergraduate Teaching Awards for Teaching Excellence in the School of Business. General Mackenzie also serves on the Board of the Canadian Institute of Strategic Studies.

A great patriot, leader and businessman, General Mackenzie's broad understanding of both domestic and international military and civilian economic and political issues is both unique and invaluable.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Lieutenant General Donald Mackenzie:

Shell Oil Company, The Modern Light Aeroplane. London, Shell-Mex and BP Ltd [circa 1930].

The purpose of this fascinating first edition is "to give a graphic and clear exposition of the principles of construction of the aeroplane engine and the air-frame." It contains four colour-printed plates with overslips that fold back to reveal some 35 different component parts of a 1930's biplane. It is a vivid and uncommon volume in fine condition with the original photographically illustrated wrappers by Maurice Beck.

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

The Presentation

The Dean of the Faculty of Education presents the candidates for degrees with these words:

"Eminent Chancellor and President, on behalf of the Faculty, I present to you these scholars and ask that they be pledged and admitted to the degrees to which they are entitled."

The Pledge

The President then addresses the candidates in these words:

"Do you promise faithfully to observe and loyally to maintain the statutes, customs, privileges, and liberties of this, your University? Do you solemnly promise to conduct yourself in all things loyally and faithfully to the honour of your University, the encouragement of learning, and the good of your country?"

Each candidate replies:

"These things I pledge myself to do."

The Admission

The Chancellor then addresses the candidates in these words:

Congratulations Honorary Degree Recipient

Douglas Mc Nally

Mr Douglas McNally of Edmonton is highly regarded for his substantial contributions to the development and implementation of community-based programs serving children, youth and families locally, nationally and internationally.

A member of the Edmonton Police Service for 28 years, Mr McNally retired in 1995 after serving as Chief of Police for five years. He served in a variety of operational and administrative roles within the Service through which he developed a strong background in criminal investigation. He was the first trained polygraph operator employed by the Edmonton Police Service and, for a time in the 1970s, was one of the hostage negotiators used by police in armed and barricaded person situations. During this period of time he became aware, through first-hand experience, of the cycle of poverty and crime and of the difficulties faced by children raised in disadvantaged environments. He made it a personal mission to make Northern Albertans aware of the advantages of early childhood education and its positive effect upon reducing crime involvement.

As Chief of Police he was instrumental in the police service's successful transition from a reactive, incident-based method of policing to community-based policing. This change was made possible by Mr McNally's belief that policing requires partnership with the community. At the time, the idea was considered revolutionary and Edmonton was one of the few North American cities to lead the transition. From 1992-1995, Edmonton's crime rate dropped by 40 percent—most of this reduction was attributed to the new model.

In 1995, upon his retirement from the Police Service, Mr McNally became CEO of the Edmonton Community Foundation and has overseen an explosive growth in the Foundation's assets. Through his leadership, the Foundation currently distributes $5.4 million annually to charitable groups for critical programs such as literacy, early childhood development, affordable housing and the arts including the innovative and effective Classrooms on Wheels (COWS) Program.

In 1997 Mr McNally became part of a group of community representatives and U of A researchers that began to seek a new approach to bridging the problematic gap between research and practice in child and family development. This group eventually evolved into the Community-University Partnership for Children, Youth and Families (CUP), of which he is Co-Chair. Through CUP activities, the community has a vehicle to access the U of A in a meaningful way and in return, the University has direct involvement in interdisciplinary, community and government initiatives related to children and families.

Mr McNally has also provided volunteer time and energy to Scouts Canada and diabetes research. He was a member of the Board of Governors of the Canadian Centre for Police Race Relations, Vice-President of the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police, and was instrumental in the establishment of Leadership Edmonton, an innovative initiative designed to nurture a new generation of leaders in the city.

Mr McNally's lifelong commitment to community development and underprivileged children is truly inspiring. This extraordinary, innovative leader works daily to develop strong and vibrant communities and to improve the prospects for children everywhere. He is the epitome of what is good and honourable in our community.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Mr Douglas McNally:

William Roscoe, Observations on Penal Jurisprudence, and the Reformation of Criminals. London, T Cadell and W Davies, 1819.

Through a close examination of the condition of penitentiaries in England, America, and Europe, the author thoughtfully concludes that, "instead of connecting the ideas of crime and punishment, we ought rather to place together the ideas of crime and reformation." This volume includes prison reports from several cities, statistical data, charts, etc., and is a fine presentation copy of the first edition, inscribed: "The R Hon Lord Crewe from the author." Baron Crewe was a devoted whig member of Parliament.

Congratulations Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

Members of the audience are requested to remain at their places until the Platform Party and the graduates have recessed.

Following the Convocation ceremony, light refreshments will be served on the Main Floor Foyer and First Balcony Foyer. The University and the Alumni Association cordially invite you to attend.

Those graduates who would like a photograph with the Chancellor may meet him in the west end of the Main Floor Foyer. The Chancellor will be available for approximately twenty minutes following the conclusion of the ceremony.

Charles Stelk

Dr Charles Stelck, professor emeritus of Geology at the University of Alberta, is a renowned Canadian paleontologist and stratigrapher whose pioneering research of fossils and stratigraphy in Western Canada's sedimentary basin has proved to be of immeasurable value in the search for oil and gas.

Dr Stelck began his association with the University of Alberta in 1934 when he enrolled as a geology student. He received his BSc in 1937 and MSc in 1941. For the next fifteen years, working with his mentor Dr Percival Warren, he was involved in detailed mapping and exploration for the Geological Survey of Canada, the Mining Corporation, Benedum and Trees, the BC Department of Mines, the USA Government and Imperial Oil. He then returned to his studies and in 1950 received his PhD from Stanford University. In 1948 he was hired as Lecturer at the U of A and has remained at this University ever since, rising to his present rank as Professor Emeritus.

For the past 50 years Dr Stelck has stood as the perfect role model for the generations of students who have had the honour of being taught by him. He was a true mentor in his role as teacher and his list of graduate students reads like a Who's Who of the petroleum industry. One of his former students, Darol Wigham, has written of Dr Stelck "The most significant product of his research has been the education and inspiration of countless geologists in western Canada." Even today, Dr Stelck continues to work with graduate students on jointly authored papers and remains available as a much sought-after mentor. Like many of his oil-field discoveries, Dr Stelck is still producing.

Dr Stelck and Dr Warren were the first to bring stratigraphic order to the Devonian system in western Canada. An outstanding research scientist, Dr Stelck introduced studies that provided numerous oil companies with a sound biostratigraphic basis for exploration programs and established the geological setting of some of the most important oil fields in Alberta.

His personal success as an oil and gas discoverer is attributed to his broadly based approach to the prospecting for fossil fuels. From his pioneering fieldwork on the wartime Canol Project in the Norman Wells and Upper Peel River areas of the Northwest Territories to his discovery of the Fort St John gas field and the Monkman Pass gas field, Dr Stelck has demonstrated the value of a thorough investigation of stratigraphic facies, paleogeology and biostratigraphy in hydrocarbon exploration and exploitation.

Among his numerous awards are his election to the Royal Society of Canada (1960), the Logan Medal of the Geological Association of Canada (1982), its highest award, and appointment as an Officer of the Order of Canada in 1997.

Admired and respected by students, graduates, professional geologists, fellow teachers and researchers, Dr Stelck is an inspiring teacher, a pioneering researcher and a dedicated administrator.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Dr Charles Stelck:

Joseph Priestly, "Observations on Different Kinds of Air." In Philosophical Transactions, Vol LXII London, for Lockyer Davis, 1772.

This first edition of Priestly's landmark paper announces the discovery of hydrochloric acid and nitrate oxide, and the use of the latter in measuring the purity of air, for which Priestly received the Copley medal. This led, through the work of Cavendish, Fontana and others, to exact eudiometry. This volume is a fine copy of a major scientific treatise, handsomely bound.

Congratulations Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

The Presentation

The Dean of the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research presents the candidates for degrees with these words:

"Eminent Chancellor and President, on behalf of the Faculties, I present to you these scholars and ask that they be pledged and admitted to the degrees to which they are entitled."

The Pledge

The President then addresses the candidates in these words:

"Do you promise faithfully to observe and loyally to maintain the statutes, customs, privileges, and liberties of this, your University? Do you solemnly promise to conduct yourself in all things loyally and faithfully to the honour of your University, the encouragement of learning, and the good of your country?"

Each candidate replies:

"These things I pledge myself to do."

The Admission

The Chancellor then addresses the candidates in these words:

"By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Legislature of this Province, and with the consent of this University, I admit you to the degrees to which you are entitled, and invest you with all the powers, rights, and privileges pertaining to such degrees. I charge you to use them for the glory of God and the honour of your country."

The graduates remain in their places.

At the discretion of the Faculty, the notation "With Distinction" is inscribed on the permanent record and graduation parchment of a candidate for any degree (except an honors or graduate degree), if the candidate has obtained a grade-point average of 7.5 or higher over the last two years of the program.

Congratulations Honorary Degree Recipient

John Bell

Dr John Irving Bell of Oxford, United Kingdom is a medical statesman and scientific leader in the rapidly expanding field of immunogenetics who gives selflessly to multiple organizations and initiatives in the health field.

Raised in Edmonton, Dr Bell is one of the University of Alberta's most illustrious graduates ('75 BSc). He was in his second year of medical training at U of A when he was awarded a Rhodes Scholarship to Magdalen College, Oxford University to complete his BM, BCh (1979). Upon completion of the equivalent of the MD, he completed training in Internal Medicine in London in 1982. This was followed with an Alberta Foundation for Medical Research Fellowship at Stanford University. In 1987 Dr Bell was appointed Wellcome Trust Senior Fellow in Clinical Sciences at Oxford and in 1992 named Nuffield Professor of Clinical Medicine (at the time, the youngest appointee ever) and Chairman of the Department of Medicine at Oxford University.

Dr Bell has had a truly outstanding career at Oxford. This was recently recognized by his prestigious appointment as the Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford in 2002, a post established by King Henry VII in 1546 and held by such outstanding individuals as Sir William Osler, Sir Richard Doll and Sir David Weatherall.

Dr Bell has changed the face of clinical medicine at Oxford University. Currently, his department brings in one-third of the total research dollars at that institution. In the past 10 years, the Department of Medicine's grants have totalled £47 million. Dr Bell has developed programs in the department studying the genetics of common diseases, structural biology, structural genomics, bioinformatics, genetic epidemiology and developmental biology. The department has also developed translational research in the area of vaccines, tropical medicine and cancer programs. Institutes within the department include the Wellcome Trust Centre for Human Genetics, The Oxford Vaccine and Tropical Medicine Centre, The Oxford Centre for Diabetes, Endocrinology and Metabolism and a Centre for Cancer Medicine. When the last centre is completed, this will be the largest research campus in biomedical science in Europe.

His personal scientific career has also been outstanding. Dr Bell has had a tremendous role in the study of the genetic basis of susceptibility of diseases such as diabetes, rheumatoid arthritis and multiple sclerosis and he has commercialized many of his discoveries. He has been a founding director of a series of biotechnology companies including Oxagen, Avidex, Oxxian and Powderject Pharmaceuticals.

A recipient of numerous Fellowships, Awards and Scholarships, Dr Bell has or currently sits on thirteen international scientific advisory boards including the Genome Canada Review Committee, the Singapore Government Advisory Committee on Medical Education and the President's International Advisory Committee for Canadian Institutes of Health Research. He has nearly 200 publications and is recognized as one of the outstanding clinical scientists in the world today.

Dr Bell is an exceptional Canadian who has had an international impact in the fields of genetics, translational research and clinical medicine.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Dr John Bell:

Marcello Malpighi, Opera Omnia, seu Thesaurus Locopletissimus Botanico-Medico-Anatomicus.... Lugdini Batavorum, Petrum Vander Aa, 1687.

One of the great renaissance biological and medical scientists, Malpighi is the founder of our knowledge of the anatomy of the tissues. He was one of the first scientists to make use of the microscope, and the first to demonstrate the vesicular structure of the lungs, as well as the existence of capillaries in the lungs. More than anyone else he was the creator of microscopic anatomy, a tireless investigator, unshakable in his defence of the truth. This is an extremely good copy of the second edition of his collected works, extensively illustrated with 118 copper-engraved plates.

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

The Presentation

The Dean of the Faculty of Arts presents the candidates for degrees with these words:

"Eminent Chancellor and President, on behalf of the Faculties, I present to you these scholars and ask that they be pledged and admitted to the degrees to which they are entitled."

The Pledge

The President then addresses the candidates in these words:

"Do you promise faithfully to observe and loyally to maintain the statutes, customs, privileges, and liberties of this, your University? Do you solemnly promise to conduct yourself in all things loyally and faithfully to the honour of your University, the encouragement of learning, and the good of your country?"

Each candidate replies:

"These things I pledge myself to do."

The Admission

The Chancellor then addresses the candidates in these words:

"By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Legislature of this Province, and with the consent of this University, I admit you to the degrees to which you are entitled, and invest you with all the powers, rights, and privileges pertaining to such degrees. I charge you to use them for the glory of God and the honour of your country."

Congratulations Honorary Degree Recipient

Lloyd Malin

Judge Lloyd Malin is an outstanding Edmontonian who has distinguished himself in both legal and community circles.

An alumnus of the University of Alberta ('65 BA, '70 LLB), Judge Malin was called to the Bar in 1971. He articled at the Edmonton law firm of Brownlee Fryett. From 1973-1989 he was a partner at that firm. In 1989 he moved to Milner & Steer where in 1990 he was named a partner. He remained at Fraser Milner Casgrain LLP (successor to Milner Steer), until March of this year when he was appointed to the Edmonton Criminal Division of the Provincial Court of Alberta.

Judge Malin had a long and distinguished career in private practice. For his first seven years he was primarily engaged in a barrister's practice with a substantial emphasis on civil defence matters and he appeared at all levels of the court system, from the Provincial Court of Alberta to the Supreme Court of Canada. From 1977 onward he practiced almost exclusively as a solicitor dealing with mergers and acquisitions, corporate governance and organization matters, banking and finance, franchising, estate and business succession planning, property development and commercial leasing, general and limited partnerships and gaming law. He was engaged in matters throughout Canada as well as Europe, the United States and Asia.

Judge Malin has taught, lectured and been a panelist in numerous courses and seminars dealing with commercial leases, legal writing, minority shareholder rights, and property ownership problems for associations governed by the Societies Act of Alberta. He was the Inaugural Chairman of the Business Law Subsection of the Northern Branch of the Canadian Bar Association.

During his career Judge Malin has served his alma mater with distinction and commitment. He was elected to Alumni Council, the governing body for the Alumni Association, in 1992. From 1993 to 1997 he served as the Alumni Association representative on the University Senate. In 1995 he was elected President of the Alumni Council, and in 1996 was nominated as the Alumni Association's representative on the Board of Governors. He was named Acting Chair of the Board for 1997-98, and then served as Vice-Chair from 1998-2002. During his tenure as acting chair, he maintained and helped to move forward the University's momentum while ensuring that the goals of the University were the Board's first priority. He was a founding member of the School of Business' Canadian Centre for Social Entrepreneurship which seeks to expand the community linkages between the School and the not for profit sector and government sectors. He was also a trustee of the Universities Academic Pension Plan, a position he was required to resign upon his appointment to the Bench.

A role model for volunteers, Judge Malin's community involvement is too numerous to record in full. The list includes serving as a director of the Edmonton Regional Airports Authority, where he served on the Authority's governance committee and chaired its audit committee, and as a board member with the Royal Alexandra Hospital, the Edmonton Symphony Society, the Edmonton Art Gallery and the City of Edmonton Parks, Recreation and Cultural Advisory Board.

Judge Malin has displayed an outstanding commitment to his community and to the University of Alberta. He has been a tremendous ambassador for his alma mater, promoting the University's vision, goals and impact at numerous events. He is a dedicated alumnus who leads with quiet dignity and strong personal integrity.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Judge Lloyd Malin:

Aesop, The Fables of Aesop. Translated by Roger L'Estrange. Line drawings by Alexander Calder. Paris, Harrison of Paris, 1931. With unique binding of orange-brown morocco leather by Hope Weil.

This volume is one of the most admired fine press books of its day, and one of only 595 copies. It includes fifty evocative illustrations by Calder (1898-1976), the great American artist/sculptor who invented the mobile and was renowned for his charming illustrations of animals. L'Estrange's translation of 1692 is a classic of English literature that has delighted generations of readers young and old. This is an important addition to the library's collection of notable press books and the book arts.

Congratulations Graduates

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

Conferring of Degrees

The Presentation

The Dean of the Faculty of Engineering presents the candidates for degrees with these words:

"Eminent Chancellor and President, on behalf of the Faculties, I present to you these scholars and ask that they be pledged and admitted to the degrees to which they are entitled."

The Pledge

The President then addresses the candidates in these words:

"Do you promise faithfully to observe and loyally to maintain the statutes, customs, privileges, and liberties of this, your University? Do you solemnly promise to conduct yourself in all things loyally and faithfully to the honour of your University, the encouragement of learning, and the good of your country?"

Each candidate replies:

"These things I pledge myself to do."

The Admission

The Chancellor then addresses the candidates in these words:

"By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Legislature of this Province, and with the consent of this University, I admit you to the degrees to which you are entitled, and invest you with all the powers, rights, and privileges pertaining to such degrees. I charge you to use them for the glory of God and the honour of your country."

The graduates remain in their places.

Presentation of Graduates

The graduates are presented individually to the Chancellor in alphabetical order according to the seniority of their faculty and the establishment date of each program. At the discretion of the Faculty, the notation "With Distinction" is inscribed on the permanent record and graduation parchment of a candidate for any degree (except an honors or graduate degree), if the candidate has obtained a grade-point average of 7.5 or higher over the last two years of the program.

Congratulations Honorary Degree Recipient

Benjamin Torchinsky

Mr Benjamin Torchinsky, previously of Calgary, Saskatoon and Toronto and now residing in the Cayman Islands, has made immeasurable national and international contributions, first to the fields of geotechnical and highway engineering and eventually to the profession of industrial engineering.

In 1949, after graduating from the University of Alberta ['47 BSc (Eng), '49 MSc (Eng)], Mr Torchinsky was recruited by the University of Saskatchewan's Civil Engineering Department as Assistant and then Associate Professor. In 1952 he founded his own consulting engineering company (B B Torchinsky & Associates Ltd) and in 1954 founded Western Caissons Ltd, providing heavy foundation contracting services across Canada and the USA. By 1957 he had resigned from the University of Saskatchewan to manage his business enterprises full-time.

Mr Torchinsky's achievements cover a broad spectrum of engineering-related fields including the development of most of the initial cable television systems in Western Canada dating back to the '50's. He founded AGRA Industries in the late 1950's and it built and operated the first rapeseed crushing plant in Canada which produced canola vegetable oil, margarine and high protein animal feedstock. His company pioneered the installation of deep foundation caissons in western Canada for bridges and other heavy structures. In the 1970's Mr Torchinsky, together with Golder Engineering, financially supported an experimental development to build and stabilize offshore islands ("sand islands") for potential offshore drilling applications in the Beaufort Sea. AGRA Industries developed more than 50 subsidiary companies in the half century of its existence. One of these was Vadeko, a high-technology and robotics group that developed a thin film technology for the Bank of Canada to protect its bank notes against counterfeiting. This helped to establish Canada as a world leader in this form of security technology.

Some of the other many "firsts" in Mr Torchinsky's career were building the first national all-news radio network in Canada (CKO), building the first high technology electronic toll highway in Canada (Toronto's 407) and starting the first beverage container recycling system for the Province of Alberta (Contain-A-Way).

Before its merger with AMEC plc of England in 2000, AGRA had developed into a major engineering, construction and technology firm listed on the Toronto and Montreal Stock Exchanges with some 160 offices scattered throughout the world, employing over 6,500 professional and technical staff and with revenues in excess of $1.5 billion. Around the world, AGRA Industries' projects have led to vastly improved living conditions in developing nations through technology transfer projects, and have led to increased self-sufficiency and new employment opportunities for engineers and other workers.

Mr Torchinsky is a lifetime member of the both the Association of Professional Engineers of Saskatchewan and the American Society of Civil Engineers. He is a member of the Engineering Institute of Canada, the Canadian Geotechnical Society, a Fellow of the Canadian Academy of Engineering, a past member of the National Advisory Board on Science and Technology, and a past member of the Association of Consulting Engineers of Canada and the Consulting Engineers of Ontario. Mr Torchinsky is also a member of the International Board of Directors of the Technion Institute in Israel.

Mr Torchinsky is the recipient of the Sir John Kennedy Medal from the Engineering Institute of Canada, its most senior award, and the Beaubien Award from the Association of Consulting Engineers of Canada, its highest distinction, for his contribution to the profession in Canada.

A man of outstanding business acumen, vision and strong entrepreneurial spirit, Mr Torchinsky has been instrumental in helping to commercialize numerous viable technologies, many of which have had profound effects on both industry and society worldwide.

The University of Alberta Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of an honorary degree to Mr Benjamin Torchinsky:

Charles Babbage, "On a Method of Expressing by Signs the Action of Machinery." In Philosophical Transactions of the Royal Society. London, W Nicol, 1826.

This is the first appearance of Babbage's mechanical notation system, in which he labeled each part of a machine as either fixed or movable, which led directly to his revolutionary designs for the mechanical calculator and early computer. This is a landmark essay in computer and circuit design, and is in impeccable condition.

The list of candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically. The winner of the most prestigious award in each faculty, if attending, is presented first.

Magna Congregatio History of Convocation

In the eleventh century, a new vitality quickened all aspects of the civilization of Western Europe. The creative forces thus unleashed soon found expression in new institutions, and of these the university bids fair to be the most enduring. The modern university is the lineal descendant of the university of the Middle Ages. Its purposes and organization, even much of its ceremonial, are medieval in origin.

The medieval university was originally called a studium generale, that is, a place of learning to which teachers and students from anywhere resorted. The first studia were at Salerno, Bologna, and Paris. These came into existence spontaneously and developed through the twelfth century as the needs of the time and their inner necessities dictated. In the thirteenth century these spontaneous associations crystallized into guilds or corporations endowed by Church and State with specific privileges which guaranteed the internal autonomy necessary for the vocation of study. To these corporations was increasingly applied the word universitas denoting the entire group of those responsible for the transmission of higher learning and the pursuit of knowledge.

By the beginning of the 14th century, two forms of university organization had appeared. At Bologna, primarily a higher school of canon and civil law to which came men experienced in ecclesiastical and secular administration, the control of the studium generale passed to the students; hence Bologna was a universitas scholarum. On the other hand in Paris and Oxford, whose dominant faculty was the Faculty of Arts, the studium emerged under the direction of a guild of teachers, a universitas magistrorum. Through its own officials, notably the chancellor (once symbol of external control and by now of internal autonomy), the guild of teachers developed its courses of instruction, administered its own affairs and admitted to its company only those who had met its intellectual standards. The University of Alberta stands in the tradition of Paris and Oxford.

Originally the goal of the medieval student was certification by the guild of teachers that he also was qualified to teach (the licentia docendi). With the passage of time the student's progress through the curriculum was marked by ceremonies which signified his successful attainment of a certain level (gradus or in modern language, degree) of competence. The Bachelor had completed his apprenticeship in the Faculty of Arts. The Master was now qualified to teach in that Faculty and was thus incorporated into the universitas magistrorum. The Doctor was one who, having obtained the mastership, had successfully completed the curriculum of one of the "higher" faculties (in the Middle Ages, law, medicine, and theology) and was now qualified to teach in those faculties. Inevitably the degrees of the universitas did more than admit their holders to the teaching profession. They served the wider social purpose of demonstrating their holders' fitness to serve the entire medieval community.

Today's ceremony stems from the medieval tradition. The procession of the guild of teachers, whose solemn assembly, or convocation, is the modern equivalent of the medieval magna congregatio of all faculties, is lead by the Chancellor and the Chief Marshal carrying the mace, the symbol of the University's corporate authority. The academic gowns, hoods, and caps, once the sober, disciplined dress of secular clergy and teachers, declare in their various designs and colors the academic qualifications of the Faculty. The citations and presentations by the Faculty to the Chancellor attest to him and to society the degree of proficiency attained by the students of the University. There follows a visible and public act whereby the universitas magistrorum, acting through its Chancellor, confers upon the students the appropriate degree. It is the act, not a certificate, which constitutes the validity of the degree bestowed. More, the formula, "I admit you" and the placing of the students' hands within the hands of the Chancellor and his associates, bind the students in the appropriate degree to the universitas magistrorum. The students thereafter bear for all time the mark of their association with this University. They have received what the University has been and presently is. Because they bear in themselves the promise of the future, they are what the University hopes to be. Despite its solemnity, convocation is a joyous occasion.

The history of academic dress reaches far back into early days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required that all "Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors" of the University Coimbra wear gowns. In England, in the second half of the fourteenth century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade "excess apparel" and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. It is still a controversial question as to whether academic dress finds its sources chiefly in ecclesiastical or in civilian dress. Gowns may have been counted necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings frequented by medieval scholars. Hoods seem to have served to cover the tonsured head until superseded for that purpose by the skull cap. This was itself displaced by a headdress more or less like one or another of those now recognized as "academic." (The mortar board—the hard, square cap commonly used as academic headdress today—evolved from the softer, more flexible "square cap" introduced in England about 1490. It is named for the square board on a handle used by stone masons for holding the mixed mortar to be applied to walls.) Both Cambridge and Oxford have made academic dress a matter of university control to the extent of even its minor details and have repeatedly issued revised regulations. In Laudian days in Oxford it was prescribed that any tailor who departed from authorized design "even by a nail's breadth" in the making of any article of collegiate costume was to be punished by the vice-chancellor of the university.

Academic dress at the University of Alberta generally follows the prescription of Cambridge University in the design of the gown, and that of Oxford University in the design of the hood. See the Academic Dress page in this program for a detailed description of the academic dress at this institution.

In addition to the apparel worn by holders of degrees conferred by the University of Alberta, a collection of apparel specific to particular offices has also been developed. The President of the University wears a green gown faced with gold braid trim and lining and a green cap with a gold tassel. The Chancellor and Chancellors Emeriti wear gowns of teal blue with silver trim and black caps with silver tassels. The gowns of the senior officials bear an embroidered crest of the University. University Governors and Senators wear stoles bearing the crest of the University over their gowns: gold for Governors and green for Senators. The University Registrar wears a green gown with gold trim on the sleeves.

Graduates and staff of the University of Alberta who wish to purchase their own academic apparel are invited to contact the Convocation Officer in the Office of the Registrar and Student Awards.

Quaecumque Vera The University Coat of Arms

On November 15, 1909, a motion by the faculty recommended to the Senate the adoption by the University of the provincial coat of arms, with the addition of an open book above the shield and the motto Lux et Lex; the words "University of Alberta" were to be attached as might seem fit. The present motto was substituted in January 1911 for the one originally proposed. In 1950 the representation of the coat of arms was altered to conform better to the principles of heraldic design but these arms were never actually registered.

In 1994 a new coat of arms incorporating a number of traditional symbols associated with the University or the Province, or with learning, was officially granted by the Canadian Heraldic Authority. In non-technical language, it consists of the following elements:

Shield: a representation of the topography of Alberta (wheat fields, hills, rivers, and the Rocky Mountains) derived from the provincial coat of arms, and a book symbolizing learning.

Crest: a Great Horned Owl, the provincial bird and a traditional symbol of wisdom.

Supporters: a pronghorn, taken from the provincial coat of arms, and a golden bear, long the University mascot, standing on a mound of wild roses, the floral emblem of Alberta.

Motto: Quaecumque vera ("Whatsoever things are true," Philippians 4:8)

The arms are copyrighted and may not be used without permission of the Board of Governors. The name of the University is similarly protected.

University Traditions Mace and Ceremonial Chairs

The University of Alberta Mace was designed and crafted specifically for the University as a gift from Dr Francis Phillip Galbraith, Chancellor of the University of Alberta from 1964 to 1970. Michael Galbraith presented the Mace on behalf of his father on May 26, 1970.

Among its elements are the Star of Saint Thomas Aquinas, the Patron Saint of Scholars; the Wild Rose of Alberta; the Maple Leaf; and the separate charges which make up the University's Emblem. The University motto "Quaecumque Vera" ("Whatsoever Things Are True" Phil 4:8) encircles the staff. The Mace is made of sterling silver which was rhodium plated after the insertion of the various enamelled shields which make up its elements. A special electroplate process was used to apply 24 karat gold to other parts of the Mace.

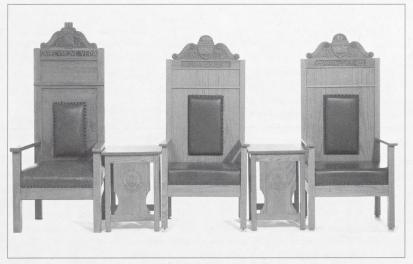

It was intended that the Mace should be modern in appearance but with medieval origins. The preponderance of visual weight at the top of the staff and the rather complex section through the metalwork at this point are reminiscent of the use of the mace as a weapon, defensive or aggressive.

The Mace is carried before the Chancellor, or Vice-Chancellor, in procession and rests on its stand in full view of the assembly during Convocation. Centuries ago the Mace was a symbol of authority over life and death. Today it represents power — but the power of knowledge and the importance of the University in the community.

The Chancellor's Chair was presented to the University of Alberta as a gift from the 1922 graduating class. It is made of solid oak with a padded leather back and seat. Above the padded-leather back is carved the University motto "Quaecumque Vera" together with the class year, 1922, and the University emblem.

In 1987, the family and friends of Dr Charles Malcolm Macleod, Chair of the Board of Governors from 1950 to 1966, presented a memorial gift to the University of an oak stand for the University of Alberta Mace and two additional chairs for use by the President and the Chair of the Board of Governors at Convocation.

Ceremonial Colors Academic Dress

All undergraduate and master's degree gowns are the customary Cambridge shape, i.e., a gown of black material falling below the knee with full sleeves cut to the elbow and terminating in a point. Hoods are made in the Oxford pattern of spruce green material. The Bachelor's hood has a border three inches wide of the color distinctive of the Faculty as noted below. The Masters' hood has a full lining of the color distinctive of the Faculty also noted below. Mortarboards are the standard black trencher shape with black tassels, which are worn forward and to the left.

Doctorate Degrees

Doctors' gowns (PhD, DMus, and EdD) conform to the Intercollegiate Code in design. They are made of black material and the velvet trim on the sleeves is Philosophy Blue for the PhD and DMus, and Education Light Blue for the EdD. Doctors' hoods conform to the Intercollegiate Code in shape, size, and color. They are made of black material to match the gown, and have a full lining of gold satin with a six-inch green satin chevron. The velvet trim distinguishes the two degrees and matches the velvet trim on the gown's sleeves. There is a narrow green piping where the gold lining joins the black material. Mortarboards are the standard black trencher shape with black tassels, which are worn forward and to the left.

Honorary Doctorates

Honorary Doctors of Laws (LLD), Letters (DLitt), and Science (DSc) wear a scarlet robe faced with white silk. Hoods are made in the Cambridge form of scarlet silk with a full lining of white silk. Caps are black velvet with a gold tassel.

If you can, please share this program with a companion. Then, if you do not take it home, please leave it (in good repair) on the table outside the doors as you exit the auditorium. This will help us ensure that someone else can use it on another day of Convocation, and subsequently conserve paper. Thank you for your assistance.
